The City of Charleston in partnership with Lowcountry Local First, Green Fair, The Sustainability Institute, Charleston County, and the Charleston Metro Chamber of Commerce presents the second workshop of the Green Business Challenge workshop series, Energy Conservation 101, sponsored by Abundant Power.

Ben Leigh, Energy Conservation Program Manager for The Sustainability Institute, will take you through steps and strategies for tracking energy consumption, reducing overall energy use, and energy efficiency strategies right for your business or organization. This workshop will help you understand how energy is consumed in your facility or place of business, best points of attack for reducing energy use, and how to increase the efficiency of the energy you do use.

There will be time for networking, Q&A, and sharing strategies and challenges among other GBC participants.
